About SequeliNetwork

SequeliNetwork is for chairs, report writers, reviewers, experts, panel members, managers and commissioners of reviews, investigations and inquiries in the mental healthcare, criminal justice, domestic violence, children's and vulnerable adults' services in England, Scotland and Wales.

SequeliNetwork also welcomes individuals from organisations whose participation will enhance the training function of Sequeli, for example, academic institutions, victims' advocacy services, charities who have an interest in the process of learning lessons from serious untoward incidents, legal services, independent providers of review and investigation services, professional organisations, government bodies and departments.

SequeliNetwork is operated by Sequeli, a not-for-profit limited company.

Additional benefit of joining

SequeliNetwork members are entitled to a reduction on all Sequeli Seminars and Workshops.

No fee for registration

There is no fee for registration and most of the training and learning materials are available free.

It is necessary to have the registration system in order to ensure there is a process by which individuals accept terms and conditions concerning privacy and confidentiality and any copyright restrictions. Please note that each registered user will become a member of SequeliNetwork and will have his or her own username and password which must be for their exclusive personal use. Where membership is in the name of an organisation, up to three named users may be requested from within the organisation.

There may need to be a charge to access or download certain material if it is third party material or because some additional cost has been incurred in the course of producing it. But Sequeli is a not-for-profit organisation and aims to keep its charges to a minimum. As a matter of principle, it considers the
